What to do and where to go

It's nice to know what is available in the local area and to start to plan your holiday before you arrive, so to help out we've included a page which shows our social media output and gives a running commentary on what's around and about in the area across the year.

As the number of attractions and activities available in the area grows we have also started a link directory. The contents for both have been gleaned from a number of internet sources so please treat either as a starting point for your own investigations rather than a personal endorsement by Gower Edge. Equally if you become aware of an exciting opportunity which is not listed, we have probably just missed it. Of course, if you have personal experience of any of the businesses shown, or would like to recommend others for inclusion we 'd love to hear about them!
